This student has been study here for a year now. He never has handed in an assignment on time. He hasn't attend very many lectures and he has failed already two exams. He have made a lot of excuses for his behaviour, but I think he is really just too busy making friends. He has had two warnings, but he hasn't been spent more time in the library and he hasn't been made any effort to improve his work. I think we need to give him a final warning.
