

On the day of the exam, remember to...

- know the date, time and place of your exam – and arrive at least 30 minutes early!
- bring a valid photo ID, for example, your national identity card or passport.
- check that your name is correct on the marksheet. If it isn't, report it to the supervisor right away.
- turn off your mobile phone, smart watch or other electronic devices. You can't bring these into the exam room. The exam supervisor will tell you where to put them.
- not bring any food into the examination room, except for a clear plastic bottle of water.
- only have on your desk what you need to take the exam: pens, pencils, erasers, etc. Note that you can't use red or green pens, only black or dark blue.
- use a pen for the writing paper, but use a pencil to fill in the marksheets for the Listening and Reading and Use of English papers.
- not use correction fluid on the official marksheet.
- listen carefully to the supervisor while they read the instructions. These are also written on the exam paper.
- not talk to or disturb the other candidates during the exam.
- not leave the exam room for any reason during the test without the supervisor's permission.
- raise your hand immediately and ask the supervisor for help if there is a problem, for example, if you're having trouble hearing the recording during the Listening paper.
- copy all your answers onto the marksheet. Answers written on note paper or the exam paper don't count!
- stop writing immediately when the time is up. The supervisor will not let you continue even if you try.
- give all the papers to the supervisor at the end of the exam, including paper you have used for notes. Don't take anything related to the exam out of the exam room.
