

	Key Vocabulary	Key Structures	Story and Social and Emotional Learning	Cross-curricular Vocabulary	Culture	Communication	PROJECT
S What's good about being curious?	Argentina, Australia, Canada, Japan, South Africa, Sri Lanka, the UK	Future: questions with going to Are you going to join a club? Past simple: questions How was your holiday?	Possessive adjectives I didn't relax on my holiday. We stayed in their house.	Story: The Squirrels reunited SEL: Check before you make decisions.	Social science boring, crowded, exciting, frightening, historical, relaxing	Different holiday destinations	Pronunciation: word stress in country names
1 Why have we got different hobbies?	coding, doing arts and crafts, gardening, playing in a band, podcasting, trampolining beads, laptop, microphone, plants and flowers	Verb + gerund I enjoy gardening. She prefers coding to trampolining.	Infinitive of purpose Do you use a camera to take photos? I use an app to change photos.	Story: KIDS ask the experts SEL: Be proud of your achievements.	ICT interactive whiteboard, smart TV, traffic lights create an app, design a website, program a computer	Hobbies around the world.	Pronunciation: Weak form of to. Functional Language: Would you like to (do some origami)? How about (playing basketball)? I'm sorry, I can't. I'm (going to the cinema tonight). Yes, thanks. That would be (lovely).	Do a podcast interview.
2 Why do landscapes change?	canyon, desert, glacier, mountain range, rainforest, volcano, waterfall dry, rocky, wet	Short superlative adjectives The Sahara is the largest desert. The Amazon is the biggest rainforest in the world. The Atacama is the driest desert.	Long and irregular superlative adjectives What is the most glacial country? Where are the most arid regions?	Story: The triathlon winners SEL: Always be fair.	Social science drought, flood, hurricane, snowstorm arid, glacial	Natural wonders of the world.	Pronunciation: -est endings in superlative adjectives. Functional language: Because I think it's (frightening). Because I think it's too (crowded).	Design a geography quiz.
Review 1	Story: The time machine – part 1		Board game: Time travel
3 Why do people like living in cities?	afraid, bored, excited, surprised, tired, hospital, shopping centre, square, supermarket, town hall	Past simple: be She was at the hospital yesterday. They weren't at the supermarket on Friday.	Past simple: questions with be Was he rich? Yes, he was. Were they artistic? No, they weren't.	Story: The lost city of Atlantis SEL: Checking information.	Social science bones, buried, coins, dig, jewellery, tools	Exploring London and New York.	Pronunciation: Intonation in yes / no questions and short answers. Functional language: What was it like? It was interesting.	Create a city guide.
4 Why do we build skyscrapers in cities?	bank, block of flats, lift, neighbourhood, port, skyscraper, stadium, the old part, the outskirts, underground station	Need to + verb / need + noun We need a bike. She doesn't need to walk far.	Must / mustn't You must protect historical buildings. We mustn't demolish historical buildings.	Story: The City Protectors SEL: Try to understand other people's feelings	Social science bicycle lane, cable car, green space, pedestrian area, recycling containers, wi-fi zone	Famous buildings in different countries.	Pronunciation: Silent /t/. Functional language: Could you tell me the way to (the nearest bus stop)? Go down (this road and) take the (first) turning on your (right). (The bus stop) is on your (left).	Write a neighbourhood proposal.
Review 2	Story: The time machine – part 2		Board game: The skyscraper
5 Why do we have to do housework?	do the washing, make the bed, put things away, sweep the floor, take out the rubbish, wash the dishes broom, mop and bucket, tea towel, washing-up liquid	Past simple (regular and irregular verbs) Yesterday, I washed the dishes. Last weekend, they didn't take out the rubbish.	Past simple Wh-questions Where did they live? Why didn't she make it?	Story: Arthur and the young Lady Grace SEL: Keeping your promises builds trust.	Social science dishwasher, food mixer, microwave oven, sewing machine, vacuum cleaner, washing machine	Doing chores around the world.	Pronunciation: Consonant sound /w/. Functional language: Shall I (close this door)? Could you (put those dictionaries away), please?	Do a survey.
6 Why can't we predict the future?	artificial intelligence, driverless car, drone, humanoid robot, intelligent home, smartphone, social media, virtual assistant, follow somebody, upload	Will for future predictions I think we will have smarter phones. She thinks we won't see more drones in the sky.	Will questions Will we live in space? What will you eat in 2050?	Story: Escape from the future SEL: Don't rely too much on technology.	Natural science bamboo, brick, clay, concrete, glass, steel	Things different countries do to make the future better.	Pronunciation: Intonation in questions. Functional language: I wonder if (we'll eat insects) in the future. Maybe (we won't eat any meat) in the future.	Design a useful invention.
Review 3	Story: The time machine – part 3		Board game: Past and future		Study Skills
New Year's Eve	dots, firework display, prosperous, smash	What traditions do you associate with New Year's Eve in your country?		1 Learning new words	Learning new words by counting the syllables, miming and defining.
International Women's Day	championship, defend, develop, mountaineer	Who are the women you most admire and respect? Why?		2 Recording vocabulary sets	Organising vocabulary into categories.
World Oceans Day	algae, bottom of the ocean, corals, ocean plants	What are the things you like least and most about the oceans?		3 Revising with a friend	Defining words, playing games with a score, recording texts and dialogues, listening to your recordings.
				4 Recording grammar	Using new grammar in true sentences about you; using different colours.
				5 Organising your notes	Dividing a notebook into topics, using boxes for highlighting information, keeping a page with useful expressions.
				6 Using language	Listening to English programmes, singing karaoke, watching TV, reading English magazines.			